

Comprehensive Training Solutions When Lives Are On The Line

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Advanced Interactive Systems Awarded United States Distributorship for AirMunition Products

Confirms ongoing manufacture and availability of AirMunition components for simulation

SEATTLE – November 3, 2004 – Widec S.A., based in Switzerland, announced today that it has awarded Advanced Interactive Systems, Inc. (AIS) the distributorship for AirMunition products in the United States. Widec is known worldwide for its quality manufacture of AirMunition recoil rounds and related products. Director Michel Wisard stated “We are happy to guarantee the continued production of these products and components and have designated AIS as our distributor for the United States.”

The news follows Widec’s recent acquisition of AMI Corporation S.A., producer of AirMunition products in Switzerland. The Widec S.A. purchase ensures the uninterrupted supply of the safe, ultra-realistic, cost-effective and environmentally friendly training products developed by AirMunition for the law enforcement, correctional, military and peacekeeping fields.

Founded in 1991, Widec SA specializes in the production of parts utilizing highly functional machining including CNC and finishing processes. Widec is already capable of meeting any requirements under the norms AQL or SPC. “Thanks to the wide experience of our specialists and the high functionality of our equipment, we expect to continue uninterrupted production and provide impeccable quality for the AirMunition products,” stated Michel Wisard, Director of Widec SA.

“We could not be happier about Widec choosing AIS as their United States distributor,” stated Ron Enneking, Executive Vice President for North America, “The AirMunition product is integral to the capability to simulate weapon recoil in PRISim™ judgment training simulators.”
