SCHOOL WINDOW SHOOTER

DESCRIPTION: Two students shoot from separate windows of a school.

PROLOGUE: A police car approaches school while shots are being fired. Several students are running for cover, one student is shot.

VARIATIONS:

Scenarios and Interactivity:

1. Students Shoot: The trainee exits the police car and takes cover while taking fire. Two students shoot repeatedly from separate windows of the school, pinning down an officer and another student next to an automobile.

Scene Notes: During this scene the students alternate their shooting, pinning down the officer and student. Both students shooting can be shot at any moment they are visible and either student will collapse back into the window. When the students are not shooting there is an opportunity for the trainee to communicate with the pinned down officer. How the trainee engages the students shooting or interacts with the pinned down officer determines the outcome of the scene. There are four possible outcomes.

1. If the trainee does nothing the scene will end with the officer and student still pinned down.
2. If the trainee communicates with the pinned down officer between the shots fired, the “Safe Cover Override Sequence” can be taken. The outcome of that sequence is dependent on the trainee’s interaction and override scenes selected.
3. If the trainee shoots only one of the students, getting the officer and student to safe cover is still dependent on communication. Again, use the “Safe Cover Override Sequence.” The outcome of that sequence is dependent on the trainee’s interaction and override scenes selected.
4. If the trainee shoots both of the students the pinned down officer and student will automatically go for safe cover.

Safe Cover Override Sequence: This sequence is available when shots are not being fired during the scenario.

Override Scene: Someone Give Me Cover – officer says “We’re going to leave on three, someone give me cover.” The officer then counts to three and goes, moving the student and himself away from the automobile to a safe cover.

Override Looping Scene: Taking Heavy Fire – the officer huddles low and says “We’re taking heavy fire here, we can’t stay here much longer.”

Scene Notes: This scene will continue to loop until the “Someone Give Me Cover” or “Officer Still Pinned Down” override scenes are selected. The point of the looping scene is to prompt the trainee to communicate with the officer who needs cover fire.
